The proposed settlement is a transparent sellout of the public interest and a travesty of justice. It sends the message that crime is OK, as long as the perpetrator is big enough.

The settlement has so many loopholes designed to allow the perpetrator to continue the activity that the case was all about, that it is a legal nullity.

Indeed, the perpetrator right now is, in full public view, continuing this activity, while daring the States that are continuing to pursue the case to encompass its current activity, to exploit such pursuit as a ground for further delay.

Microsoft has to date almost successfully demonstrated that infinite delay is a valid legal strategy, and that bribery of King George's DOJ is an accomplished fact.

Yours Truly,

Dr James L Jenkins
